2015 Summary

In 2015 Marching Mountains continued to receive instruments from donors around the country. We also continued to ship instruments to schools in the network at a sustained rate.

We grew our mission to include helping struggling schools in the Twin Cities area as well as rural Minnesota. With our headquarters in Minneapolis and many of our instruments coming from Twin Cities citizens, we felt contributing to the children of Minnesota was the right thing to do.

We kicked off our expansion by donating a 10-piece drum kit to Olsen Middle School in North Minneapolis. Olsen Middle School is comprised of 93% minority students with 95% qualifying for free or reduced lunch. We are grateful for the opportunity to provide a drum kit donated by Tony and Christina Hodgkins to the school's band program.

In the Twin Cities of Minnesota, please drop-off instruments in good-working condition:

“That's great to hear (about this donation) because I have an 8th grade clarinet player that is using a school clarinet that's in pretty rough shape so I can put it to use.”
